

Tuesday, January 25, 2005

To Whom It May Concern:

3679 Mark Goldberg was employed as an Editor at Sam Hurwitz Productions during the fall of 2004 and completed the 90-minute DVD documentary, "Nightstalkers, Daywalkers & Familiars: Inside The World of Blade Trinity".

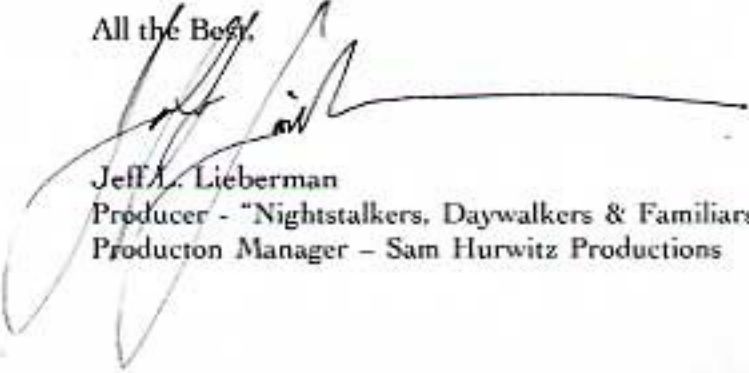

EDITOR
MARKETPLACE
Mark showed an impressive skill at weaving together Cast & Crew interviews, Behind-the-Scenes B-roll and Feature Film Clips to tell the complete story of how the film was created. Working from a Chapter Outline created by the producers, Mark worked independently, crafting together the story in a way that was succinct, interesting and entertaining. A great degree of patience and detail was demonstrated in the cutting style that Mark employed, seaming together countless soundbites in a fashion that was complimentary to the interviewee, and more efficient in the storytelling.

MARKETPLACE
Mark was a trooper in the amount of hours and late nights he committed to the project, working long hours and weekends to ensure we met our deadline. Mark was also an integral part of the finishing process, and worked closely with the Online Editors and Sound Mixer to ensure that our intended collective vision was met.

LOS ANGELES
Aside from his good work, Mark is a fun guy to have in the office, a team player, and having an Editor with social skills goes a long way.

31034 Please feel free to contact me at 310.842.8204 should you have any further questions.

CALIFORNIA
All the Best,

JEFF A. LIEBERMAN
31034
Producer - "Nightstalkers, Daywalkers & Familiars: Inside The World of Blade Trinity".
Production Manager - Sam Hurwitz Productions